General Summary for Wednesday, 1 May, 2024

British Mountain Summary:

Based on forecast chart for noon 1 May, 2024

East to southeast winds, mostly moderate in strength, will bring low cloud to eastern hills, but breaking up widely in the west with patchy sun. The legacy of a front will act as a focus for scattered heavy shower development, whilst an area of rain may spread in across parts of the east and Wales later in the day.

Headline for Southern Uplands

Patchy sun, but low cloud in the east. Risk of heavy showers, or showery rain in east.

Detailed Forecast for Wednesday, 1 May, 2024

How windy? (On the summits)	East to southeasterly between 10 and 20mph.
Effect of wind on you?	Small
How wet? (Precipitation and its impact)	Risk showers, or in the east an area of rain for a time. Rain and drizzle on and off before dawn will continue into the day in some areas, but through the morning nearly all fizzle out. Risk scattered heavier showers afternoon and also an areas of showery rain onto easternmost hills.
Cloud on the hills?	All or nearly all clearing, low cloud may persist near east coast. Very varied cloud base from dawn, in places covering lowest slopes, whilst higher areas are between cloud layers. Slowly the cloud will break up in many areas, but near to North Sea low cloud may persist.
Chance of cloud free summits?	20% rising to 60 to 80% away from east coast.
Sunshine? Air clarity (below cloud)	Cloud layers gradually thinning and breaking to give a patchwork of sun. Excellent visibility, hazier toward east.
How Cold? (at 750m)	6C to 10C, warmest east of M74 in afternoon.
Freezing Level	Above the summits.

Planning Outlook

All mountain areas of Britain from Thursday, 2 May, 2024

High pressure to the north and a slow-moving area of low pressure circulating to the south during midweek. Scattered showers possible for the Highlands, but a lot of dry weather - warmest and clearest in the west. Powerful easterly winds will be very gusty by Thursday into early Friday, especially Scotland and northern England, then easing. A front brings a risk of persistent rain for Wales on Thursday. Slow-moving weather patterns are likely to continue onward into the Bank Holiday weekend, giving considerable uncertainty of local day-to-day detail, but most likely the wind often light and fairly warm overall. A good amount of dry and bright weather, but risk of locally thundery showers forming.
